

Annbriar Golf Course

Contributed by Chris Behan
Thursday, 05 July 2007
Last Updated Thursday, 05 July 2007

Located in Waterloo, IL, Annbriar Golf Course is consistently ranked among the best public courses in the St. Louis area.

The course is cut through 226 acres of rolling farmland and designed by famed architect Dr. Michael Hurdzan, who also designed the Tavern Creek Course at the Country Club of St. Albans.

The course layout is challenging but tough, and you can expect the conditioning of the course to always be among the best in the area.